

The public is sleeping — not aware of danger

Even their snoring doesn't wake them.

Voices from Two Different Stories:

FEAR (STRATCOM) wants to keep ordinary citizens sleeping so that he can make policies to benefit the elite in power.

HOPE: Wake up, Americans! StratCom is giving us sleeping pills filled with fear. Important services for the truly needy are going to be cut to pay for StratCom. I cherish the highest and best within humans and do not want hope and our highest sensitivities destroyed by StratCom. We have recently overcome the entrenched violent practices of slavery, lynching and colonialism. I believe we can now condemn and overcome torture, poverty, war, beating of family members, exploitation of children, economic injustice, religious violence, disabilities discrimination, environmental destruction, racism, and subjugation of women.

Comments: ■ American people are mostly unaware of StratCom, and those who do know about StratCom tend to disbelieve, even deny StratCom's imperialism, which will occur no matter who is U.S. President. ■ The public has not made the connections between the militarization of America and the coming cuts in veteran benefits, women's support, children's welfare, education, social security, medicare, and medicaid.
